Indian Rickshaw Driver Finds The Secret Of Happiness

In Break Open The Sky, Steve Bauman describes the opening scene of Happy, a documentary that explores the nature of happiness. There, we meet Manoj Singh, a rickshaw driver from India. He lives with his wife and three children in a one-room home constructed of rusted corrugated metal held together with plastic tarp. When asked about his life, he said, "I am not poor, but I am the richest person." He proudly talks about his work as a rickshaw driver in the crowded streets, during the monsoons, in the sweltering heat, and where he experiences occasional abuse from drunk passengers, and refers to these as mere inconveniences. He said his home is "good" even though it doesn't protect his family from the monsoons. Sometimes they can afford only rice with a bit of salt. "But we are still happy," he said.

Stunning. How could Manoj say he is happy when, from our perspective, the most basic elements of happiness are absent? Manoj and his family function near the bottom of the caste system in a country that claims it has graduated from such a system. They are eking out a living amid grinding poverty. Their home is ramshackle and exposed, without title or deed. There is no running water or sanitation to speak of. Manoj's kids have little chance for quality education. Any disruption - drought, illness, economic downturn - could sabotage their very chance of survival.

But somehow in the midst of all this, Manoj is happy.

In-person Congregational Worship Service continues today (up to 150 persons MAXIMUM). Members who intend to worship in the church premises on Sunday are to register and submit the online form on the PPCOC website each week. A ballot may be conducted if necessary. You can join us in worship by going to www.ppcoc.org and clicking on "Live Streams" under the Resources tab. You can also click on the Donate tab to find out how to make bank transfers to the church for REBUILDING PLEDGES and offerings.

Family News, Concerns & Prayers

Investing in the Next Generation

We have a growing church and a significant part of that comes from growing families. We love seeing couples welcome new little miracles into their families. Our goal is to support you as you raise your children "in the way they should go, so they will not depart from it."

Part of that involves having a safe, fun environment for children at church. We are at a point where we need to expand and remodel our existing kids' areas—which is a great "problem" to have, right?

In contributing to the Church Building Fund, you will be supporting the Childrens' Ministry, which is an important part of the Church. The new PPCOC Church building will provide the children with a conducive environment to receive lessons that will help them grow in spiritual maturity. I'd like to invite you today to invest in the next generation by giving toward the Church Building project.

Please download the pledge form from "Focus". If you would like to collect a NEW Pledge Form, please WhatsApp Beng Chuan at 96393008.

Thank you!

OPW prayed for these 4 second year students that they will work hard during their last semester, do well in their SIBI exams and graduate in June 2021.

OPW prayed for these 3 first year students, who have already been studying online for 7 months in their respective home countries, that the Singapore government will allow their entry soon into Singapore soon so that they can experience face to face learning.
