Sunday Morning Worship

A Tabled Resolution | 26 May 2024

We live in a relatively peaceful society, and we thank God for that. We live in a country that prides itself on being a multicultural and multi-religious society where differences are embraced and celebrated. And in the name of keeping the peace, we like to avoid conflict wherever we can help it. We like to “save face” and hope that any tensions will fade away with time.

But at the Table of Jesus, there is no time or space for such flimsy peace. Jesus Himself prayed for a truly radical unity - that all his followers might be one just as He was one with His Father, and that all kinds of people united around the Table of Jesus do not come by ignoring differences, but by confronting them in love and grace. The early church had some hard conversations that generated “heated debates” but emerged stronger for it. Perhaps it’s time we learn from their example.
